→ Community of Leaders

You'll gain strategies and insights to lead, beginning with your first learning team project. Through career seminars, exclusive leadership coaching, and dedicated entrepreneurial programs, you'll be ready to meet challenges head on.

Camila Noordeloos, WG'18

*Co-Founder at Imaginare Studios; Chicago, IL
Previously: Portfolio Manager, GE Ventures; San Francisco, CA*

Having grown up in Brazil, Camila Noordeloos wanted an MBA with a global view and worldwide recognition. She sought out a program that would further her financial career as a portfolio manager. Additionally, she wanted one with a strong entrepreneurial focus to further her interest in venture capital and fuel her own aspirations as an entrepreneur.

Previously: Senior Manager,
Ernst & Young

“

If I was going to put myself through an executive MBA program, I wanted something that would be the best-in-class education, and Wharton could guarantee that for me.”

— Camila Noordeloos, WG'18

At Wharton

Traveled to London for “Finance in Europe” Global Modular Course with Prof. Bülent Gültekin, Prof. Bilge Yilmaz, and Prof. João Gomes.

Co-founded Imaginare Studios with Wharton classmates Autumn Huiatt and Kali Bhandari.

At Work

Within six months of starting the Wharton program, Camila was promoted to Senior Manager, Portfolio Management, at GE Ventures.

In a year, named a GE Fellow at Zinc, GE Ventures' portfolio company.

“I tested the waters with different schools’ networks and found Wharton’s to be the most powerful.”

— Luis Rietti, WG’18

Luis Rietti, WG’18

Founder and President of dVELOPING; Austin, TX

Luis chose Wharton because he wanted a top EMBA program with strong focus on all disciplines (including entrepreneurship, accounting, marketing, finance, and general management) and a diversified global culture. He’s found that his mindset has changed, along with the way he approaches business.

At Wharton

Chose to go to Spain for Global Business Week to learn about the leisure industry — gastronomy, sports, and hospitality.

Traveled to Argentina for a Global Modular Course elective on Technology, Innovation and Entrepreneurship.

At Work

A cleantech investment broker, Luis brokered several successful investments in his first year because of the Wharton network.

Beyond Campus

Take learning beyond campus to international business destinations like Buenos Aires, Cape Town, and Shanghai, as part of your required Global Business Week. Broaden your view with optional Global Modular Courses and Leadership Ventures.

Two coasts, one program: San Francisco and Philadelphia

Our Philadelphia and San Francisco campuses may be 3,000 miles apart, but our Executive MBA students build strong bonds across the two coasts. Wharton's MBA gives you a business perspective that bridges the entrepreneurial spirit of Silicon Valley, the financial prowess of Wall Street, global insight from international learning, and innovative knowledge in the Ivy League tradition.
